AVIOR SIGNS AGREEMENT WITH C&D ON GLOBAL EXPRESS AND CHALLENGER COMPOSITE INTERIOR STRUCTURES

Laval, Quebec, April 11, 2008: Avior Integrated Products Ltd. has reached agreement on a contract with C&D Zodiac to manufacture the Global Express and Challenger composite cabin interior structure. The multi-year contract is valued at USD $3.5 million and represents an important first step in expanding the business base with this customer.

To accommodate C&D's requirements, Avior's Granby facility completed a major upgrade and expansion of its clean room for composite fabrication as well as production optimization of its work cells.

Mike Artus, Vice President of New Product Development said "This is a major step in our strategic plan to expand our composite capacity and capability as we introduce an important new customer and new quality approvals."

C&D Zodiac has grown since 1972 from a supplier of interior components, to a supplier of integrated interior systems for the aerospace industry. Their in-house capacity extends from raw material fabrication to final assembly. They have over 5,300 employees and 15 facilities in 6 different countries.

Avior is a full-service provider of lightweight structural assemblies for the international aerospace industry. Learn more about Avior at: www.avior.ca
